Should you fail, neglect, or refuse to return the item upon the occurrence of any Triggers for Repossession, the following consequences may occur:

1. Every time you piece an outfit together in your head, you will try it on and look like a potato.
2. Whenever you put on lip gloss, the wind will blow your hair into your face.
3. Your pillow will never have a cool side.
4. You will say, "you too" to every waiter who says, "enjoy your meal".
5. Your haircut will turn out exactly like your reference photo. Only for you to realize it doesn't suit the shape of your face.

II. CONSEQUENCES OF BREACH

My additional provisions are hereby set forth:

I. TRIGGERS FOR REPOSSESSION CONT.

THE "IT'S ACTUALLY FOR ME" CONTRACT

This agreement sets forth legally-ish binding terms by which

I, _____ ("The Gifter"),

Purchased, _____ ("The Item")

For you, _____ ("The Recipient"), from Zales, but expect it returned at some point between now and the not so distant future.

Because, honestly, look at it. It's just so perfect I wanted to give it to you, but also keep it. So here we are.

I. TRIGGERS FOR REPOSSESSION

The Recipient acknowledges that I (The Gifter) retain the right to repossess the Item, if any of the following conditions are met. Or for any other reason I deem emotionally or fashionably valid.

1. Failure to wear the Item the next several occasions I see you.

2. You describe the Item as "quirky," "fun," or "cute," instead of "absolutely life changing."

3. Upon receiving a compliment on the Item, you fail to credit me within 5-10 seconds.

4. You claim it "doesn't go" with your outfit, instead of changing your outfit.

5. You relocate somewhere cold, condemning the Item to a life hidden beneath beanies, gloves, or scarfs.
